→ Scoutmaster/Assistant Scoutmaster Leader Training

This course is recommended for all scoutmasters so that each adult leader has the basics. This course supplies the basics of how to be a Scoutmaster/Assistant Scoutmaster.

→ Intro to Outdoor Leader Skills (IOLS)

Outdoor programming is one of the methods to deliver the mission of Scouts BSA. This course is part of becoming a fully trained Scoutmaster. IOLS gives adults the basics for outdoor programming and camping. This course is two days long and begins on Monday and goes through mid-afternoon on Tuesday.

→ Safety Afloat

Several outings will include getting on a floating vessel. Its important for you to know what it takes to be safe while aboard!

→ Climb on Safely

Climbing is a common activity for scouts. This course will be useful for leaders who have older scout patrols and are looking for High Adventure opportunities.

→ Safe Swim Defense

Swimming is an activity that the youth and adults can enjoy. Being able to set up a safe swimming area is vital to any swimming outing.

→ Train the Trainer (T3) Course 1

The Fundamentals of Training—A scout deserves a trained leader, but who trains the leader? This course is designed to meet the 1st of 3 modules for the T3 BSA recognition of Adult Leaders Master Trainer. Learn the fundamentals of adult learning theory, metacognition and experience based training.
